

Digital & Cable Statewide Coverage

The Minnesota Public Television Association (MPTA) is a loose affiliation among the six independent organizations which provide PBS television services to the residents of Minnesota. The members of MPTA outside the Twin Cities now air all MN Channel partner programs through their digital services. Because each station is independently owned, the MN Channel's name varies by carrier. Each station offers an online programming grid that viewers can customize by their specific provider. The information below details where to find the MN Channel statewide.
